

Press release: British Glove Association Competition Winners July 2010

The Glove Design Competition encourages students to create practical yet original glove designs. The Safety Poster Competition asked students to create a poster to encourage the wearing of safety gloves.

Winning entrants were invited to a prestigious prize giving lunch at Drapers' Hall, London, hosted by the Worshipful Company of Glovers. Prizes were presented by Guest of Honour, Mr Jeff Banks CBE, an icon of the British fashion industry. Spanning five decades, Jeff Banks has been a leading star in the development of fashion in the UK ranging from top bespoke-wear to high-street retail fashion for men and women.

The Winners at Draper's Hall

Background

The BGA competitions have now been running since 1975 and are sponsored by the Worshipful Company of Glovers.

The Worshipful Company of Glovers is one of the ancient livery companies that once controlled and regulated their craft in the City of London. Nowadays, whilst continuing to retain strong links with their original trades, they are active in maintaining the traditions of the City and support education and charities in the wider community.

Examples of the 2010 Design Entries

GLOVE DESIGN COMPETITION 2010 - WINNERS

Category 1: a pair of gloves for the City Of London Lady Mayoress
 First Prize Carly Squire, University of Lincoln
 Runner Up Helen Barran, University of Lincoln

Category 2: a pair of warm winter gloves for children
 First Prize Danielle Fletcher, Huddersfield University
 Runner Up Carly Sargeant, University of Lincoln

Category 3: a pair of gloves for use in an industrial environment
 First Prize Rachel Paul Cater, Huddersfield University
 Runner Up Laura Jupp, De Montfort University

The Dents Prize for the Most Commercial Design from all entries received:
 Laura Hayward, University of Lincoln

The College making the Greatest Contribution to the Competition: De Montfort University

John Bennett SAFETY POSTER COMPETITION 2010 - WINNERS

First Prize Lauren Walsh, Bedford College
 Runner-up Jack Young, Wigan School For The Arts

The College producing the best series of poster designs: Wigan School For The Arts

---

Contact the BGA for further details and photographs of the prize winners and their entries.